Your guide to art, music and festive fun this November

Local public art program wins 2025 Australian Good Design Award

Landcom and Sydney Metro have been recognised at the 2025 Australian Good Design Awards for the Sydney Metro Northwest Places Public Art Program. These artworks that you see on your daily commute or morning walk are now officially award-winning!

Featuring nine major works across the Northwest area, including Golden Hour by Muralisto (pictured), each piece adds colour and identity to the growing Metro precincts.

Take the family on a journey this spring and explore the artworks along the Metro line by following the Art Track Map.
